

EDUCATION SUPPORT SERVICE

SCHOOL SUPPORT SERVICES

Speech & Language Development Australia have over 40 years' experience supporting students with Language Disorder. Our mobile Education Support Service provides additional support to students and young people with Language Disorder within the school environment.

We pride ourselves in the effective delivery of direct intervention for students while also working with school staff to build their knowledge and skills, ensuring ongoing support of the student within the educational setting.

Our Speech Language Pathologists (SLPs) and Psychologist work with a multidisciplinary team of Occupational Therapists, Educators, and a Physiotherapist to enable delivery of a transdisciplinary service. This supports the holistic development of students, maximising their learning outcomes.

Services include
